

Points Of You™

The Coaching Game

Points Of You™ is an amazing, creative, fun self-coaching process. The package includes a cloth game board, 65 cards (each with an interesting photograph and a single word), a beautifully written companion book and a tear-off pad for notes, insights and future action.

The packaging is so unique you will look forward to unwrapping the contents each time you use it. The act of unwrapping is the perfect metaphor for the discoveries that unfold as you play.

Play is easy. Choose your game: Awakeness, Relationships, Gain and Loss or Past, Present, Future. Define a challenge, decision, or opportunity – whatever you want “coaching” around. Shuffle the deck and draw a card for each of the pre-set squares on the playing board. Each square has a powerful corresponding coaching question. The photographs cover a wide range of life topics and emotions and become the perfect stimulus for perspective shifting and reflection. The book deepens the process through stories, quotes and additional coaching questions.

The Coaching Game is powerful on its own and amazing when experienced with another – specifically a coach.

Marcy Nelson-Garrison is a creativity coach, visual artist, product entrepreneur and the creator of www.coachingtoys.com, an online store with over 80 creative products to spark the imagination and fuel the spirit. She helps service-based professionals with creative leaping in the process of creating products that make a difference. Links to products reviewed in this column are available at www.coachingtoys.com

Reproduced with the permission of choice Magazine, www.choice-online.com

Reproduced with the permission of choice Magazine, www.choice-online.com